Art Unit: 3723

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4-10, and 16-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bajric et al.

Bajric et al shows an apparatus for running wire comprising a housing 10, a locking member 40, a piston 26, a coil spring 22, a notch above 44 in Fig. 1, a projectile 26, and a wire 39 fastened by some means to the projectile. The frame surrounding the locking trigger may be termed a rail. Bajric et al discloses that the wire may be dispensed separately from the projectile launcher.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 12-13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bajric et al in view of Doud.

Doud teaches that a projectile firing device may have slots in the housing for receiving guide pins attached to the piston.

To provide slots in the Bajric et al housing for receiving guide pins attached to the piston would have been obvious for one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made in view of the disclosure of Doud. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to do this in order to guide the movement of the projectile and to further provide a convenient means of retracting the piston into the housing against the bias of the spring.

Claims 3 and 21-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bajric et al in view of Grove.

Grove teaches that a projectile may be a deformable sack such as a bean bag and may further include a beacon such as a strobing light.

To make the projectile of Bajrick et al a deformable sack and to further include in the projectile a beacon such as a strobing light would have been obvious for one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made in view of the disclosure of Gove. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to do this in order to provide a convenient and inexpensive projectile that will reduce possible harm to the users and will be readily found after launch.

Claims 11, 14-15, and 20 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention/species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 11/14/05 and 9/27/05.

Applicant's remarks have been carefully considered. The new limitation that the projectile and the pull string are not connected to the projectile launcher upon release of the piston and that the projectile carries a beacon is well known and obvious in the art as demonstrated by the newly applied references.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
